Fore Street survey.

The results are from a survey undertaken in early 2004, which asked:

- 1) What do you want from your shopping centre?
- 2) What you enjoy about Fore Street?
- 3) What could be improved in Fore Street?

Approximately 8500 questionnaires were sent out to all households in the town and surrounding parishes asking them to complete it and return it to the Town Council offices.

Although the return numbers were a little low, the results raise some interesting issues.

There was a general feeling that Fore Street was a friendly place to shop, with a good variety of small shops.

The main findings about the people shopping in Saltash are:

The majority of people currently using Fore Street are over 50 years of age and have lived within the town for more than 15 years. This would indicate that the residents of the new developments of Latchbrook and Pilmere travel away from the town for their shopping needs. Less than half of the people using Fore Street are currently employed and of these 50% work in Plymouth and 37% work in S E Cornwall.

The way in which people get to the Town Centre highlighted the fact that very few people – approx 6% arrive by public transport. A significant number – approx 44% travel by car which backs up the call for an element of free parking and the remaining 50% arrive by foot.

Major improvements identified, which were felt would encourage more people to shop in Saltash were

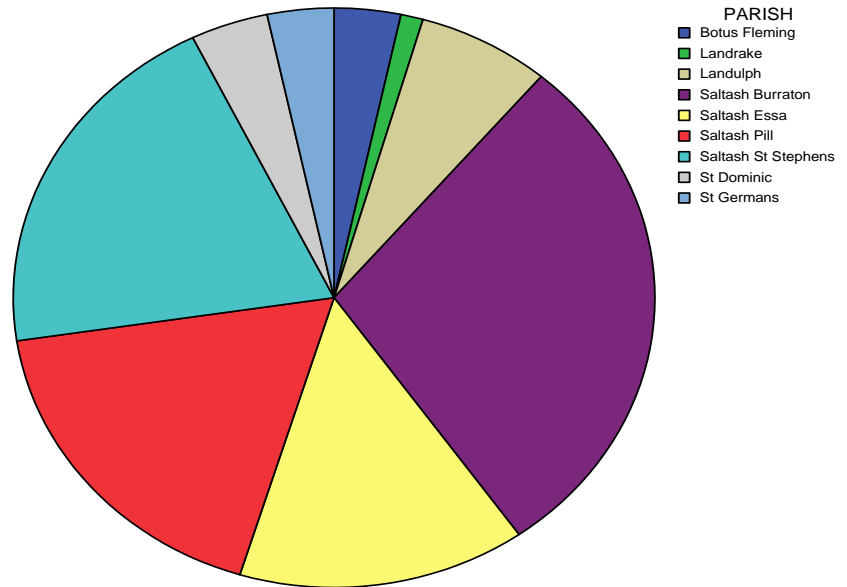

- 1) 26% believe there should be an element of free parking.
- 2) 20% identified a need for increased police presence.
- 3) 25% believe Fore Street needs to have a new look/layout (although 70% of people said that making it one-way would not influence their use of it).

There was some call for pedestrianisation – although not over the whole of the Town Centre. The other major comments made were regarding the number of empty shops, and the lack of larger shops – It has previously been identified that these could only be accommodated at the lower part of Fore Street or on the site of the Royal Mail sorting offices.
